

TEMPLARS MEET FOR WORK HERE

Trinity Commandery Host to Knights of State in Conclave

GRAND MASTER VISITS

Joseph L. Orr of Atlanta and Other Notable Masons Participate in Ceremony

The district conference of the grand commandery of Knights Templars of Oklahoma, represented by Tulsa, Muskogee, Bartlesville and Sapulpa, was held yesterday with Trinity Commandery to host to the Knights of Eastern Oklahoma.

INSPECTED BY GRAND MASTER. It was the accession of the first visit and inspection of Joseph L. Orr, of Atlanta, the grand master of the grand commandery of the United States, and was attended by 130 knights from the cities named.

A conference comprising the commandaries of western Oklahoma was held Monday in Oklahoma City in order that knights of the western part of the state might have the opportunity of inspection by this grand officer.

Ceremonies began at 2:30 o'clock and were completed at 4:30 p.m. The Bartlesville team confederated exhibition work in the Red Cross degree; Muskogee conferred the degree of Knights of Malta; and Tulsa conferred the order of Temple degree. All attending were in full uniform.

High Officials, Masters,

Grand Master Orr stated that he was much impressed with Oklahoma and its people. He predicted a bright future for Knight Templar of the state and in his brief survey sees a great commercial future for the state. Orr is a manufacturer.

James Scott of Muskogee, past grand commander of the order; H. B. Downing of Oklahoma City, deputy grand commander; Charles M. Frazier of Muskogee, vice-chairman of the national grand council; E. M. Morton of Muskogee, eminent commander; H. J. Lloyd of Muskogee, were among the distinguished visitors.

The visiting knights gathered at Hotel Tulsa for luncheon and for dinner again last evening.

DES MOINES SEEKS INDIAN MINISTER

Reverend Black Hawk May Be Traveling Under Another Name

Has anyone in Tulsa seen Reverend Black Hawk? Or perhaps he is traveling under the name of George Rothmann. Information regarding his present whereabouts sought by friends in Des Moines is collected Tuesday by Mayor T. D. Evans reads:

"An appeal to all ministers of all churches: We are asking your Christian help through your church people and all, to inquire if anyone knows the whereabouts of Reverend Black Hawk or George Rothmann, young man, age 24, dark brown hair, dark eyes, Roman nose, fair complexion, slender build, five feet, eight inches tall."

"Please tell him to come to at once or get in touch with 411 Forest Park avenue, Des Moines, Ia. His companion, Rev. Red Fox, is very sick and needs him. Appeals have gone out to all governors of the Middle West, and various Christian organizations trying to locate Black Hawk this time. Christian young man, all are anxious to get these two young men together so they can continue their work as they are engaged in Indian work in the northwest."

"We believe him to be in your part of the country. We have it spread the news trying to locate this young man through your papers and nearby towns of your country. We ask the Moons, Odd Fellows, Boy Scouts, and Campfire Girls for help. Who ever will locate him and send word of his whereabouts and with whom he is, will receive a beautiful prize. (Signed) Dr. Fred J. Everts, 411 Forest Avenue, Des Moines."

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of Black Hawk is requested by Dr. Everts to wire him or Governor and Mrs. Allen at Topeka, Kan.

STATE SURVEY FOR 'Y'

Miss Edna Pyle of Local Organization Working Under Direction of National Commission.

A survey of the commission on individual membership of the national N. W. C. was being made by Miss Edna Pyle, general secretary of the local association, following a conference here Monday with Miss Isabell Norton of New York city, secretary to Miss Mabel Croft, general secretary of the national association.

The commission was appointed at the last national convention and will report back to the next biennial national convention. The commission, after careful study, will report on the advisability of admitting members to the national association when there is no city, town or student association, whether or not there is a demand for such membership and how it could be administered.

ASSISTANT PASTOR CALLED HERE. Rev. Lester Miller of Sweetwater, Indiana has accepted a call as assistant pastor of the First Methodist church and will arrive here the first of December with his wife and two young children. Mr. Miller will be assistant in the general church work and the educational work and will act as director of the chorus choir. He is a graduate of the theological seminary at Boston University.
